Intel Drop #84 (The video version to be posted within 24 hours on our YouTube / Bitchute channels)

Editor's Note: This is our first Public / Private (Team) Intel Drop. The full version will be provided for our team on our team password-protected page. To view it, learn about our mission and apply to join our team.

The following was collated from intel sent to our team from Gideon. As always, all intel sent by Gideon is edited by Michael for clarity and for obfuscation purposes (see: Adversarial stylometry):

Bill: I've got a pretty big list of topics to cover today. Are you ready to begin?

Gideon: "I am, please proceed."

Bill: This is the first time we will split the Intel Drop, a short version for the public and a longer version for our team on our private page. How do you feel about this format going forward?

Gideon: "It is the right decision and probably overdue. The team version will contain more sensitive information that could lead to escalation if it were made public."

Bill: I started things off talking about the data centers, but you want most of that saved for our team, is that right?

Gideon: "Yes. I can give an overview here, a brief one for the public."

Bill: I'm sure people will want to hear about it, go ahead.

Gideon: "The data centers serve multiple agendas, short-term and long-term. They will integrate with the bionics I have spoken about. The public is probably going to be sold on some idea that the A.I. is generating a virtual world you can interact with, but it will not be what it seems."

Bill: This huge build-out of these data centers makes no sense, there's no way the A.I. needs that much space or storage, right?

Gideon: "No. It is already operating worldwide without issue, using existing storage. The extent and size of these projects are enormous and make no logical sense, in terms of needing that much storage or processing.

Ironically, all of it undercuts the cabal's position on climate change, as the data centers are carbon-producing behemoths.

We are seeing a broader shift whereby the cabal does not even care anymore about public perception or the legitimacy of the lies they push.

That should actually scare everyone, because it means the cabal is confident in a bigger agenda that is coming. They already know they are going to be able to control people's minds with the nano tech, so there is no need to tell convincing lies anymore."

Bill: That's sobering. I want to delve into this more, but I'm going to make the public version of our conversation a little more fast-paced, is that ok?

Gideon: "Sure, we can go deeper on these issues later."

Bill: Where do you see the UFO agenda going? It feels like we're steps away from some kind of disclosure, and it's wild how this is aligning with a major Hollywood release, "Disclosure Day". How do you see this playing out?

Gideon: "They have released some compelling things, but once again, it falls short of proof. It always falls just short of proof. That is by design. The matter is monitored at a high level, they know what proof is available and they do monitor it.

So, we are seeing some things actually disclosed that is pulling back the curtain a bit. The phenomena have a basis in reality."

Bill: You don't see it as Project Bluebeam? A fake alien narrative?

Gideon: "No, but I see that as a possibility later on, we need to be mindful of that. The cabal will be able to create convincing phenomena if they desire."

Bill: "Disclosure Day" uses sine wave sounds, the same method the actual nano tech antidote will use. People got a little confused from something we posted, thinking the movie will actually deploy the antidote. Please explain.

Gideon: "The antidote is classified. The film has nothing to do with the actual antidote, it is more of a form of predictive programming, or worse, listening and watching the movie could activate the nano tech in some way. I would advise not seeing the film.

The fact it uses sine waves - the same method of the antidote deployment, something we knew of and announced before the film's trailer was even released - involving a film so deeply wrapped in cabal-symbolism and fingerprints, that alone is remarkable to consider."

Bill: It is. It's a big confirmation for me, it's right in our faces, I mean, it's stunning. I wonder if people get the implications here. Do we have any more information on how the cabal will release the antidote?

Gideon: "Either through a private gateway or portal online, or possibly a sort of hidden-in-plain-sight method, possibly through a YouTube video. It might be public, but since the cabal controls YouTube, the public would not see it or find it. Even if a few non-Sovereigns did find it, the cabal would not be concerned about that."

it, the cabal would not be concerned about that."

Bill: The antidote doesn't actually release a person from the Obsidian designations, it just means the nano tech is disabled.

Gideon: "Correct."

Bill: Whether it's a YouTube video or a private download, that means we could release it, right?

Gideon: "Yes, but our website and all of our social media would be instantly deleted if we did. We might reach ten people. It would not be worth it, and certainly, the cabal will be monitoring what we do with it. The correct pathway is to join our team, that way we can provide the antidote safely."

Bill: We talked about A.I. and using it, and we posted some YouTube shorts generated with HTML, you approved it. Where do you stand on using A.I. now and what's your feeling on our final outreach effort?

Gideon: "Well, it is something both you and Michael wanted to do, and I begrudgingly approved it. Reaching the public is a noble cause, but the censorship is overwhelming and it will be difficult to break through that without the help of our supporters."

Bill: Do you think we will get escalated doing this?

Gideon: "The YouTube channel might end up getting shadow-banned or censored, but I do not think there will be aggressive escalation because we are simply re-releasing basic information from already existing Intel Drops. The cabal would only intervene if one of the videos, for example, got hundreds of thousands of views."

Bill: I did some analysis on the most censored topics worldwide, and it's amazing to me how the Bigfoot, UFOs and Flat Earth categories not only experience zero censorship, some of that is even encouraged by Meta and TikTok and other platforms. Meanwhile, anything about CBDCs and nano tech is highly censored.

Gideon: "That really tells us where to the truth is, does it not? What the cabal does not want people seeing or considering. The information we have exposed is highly suppressed, because it is an unveiling of their actual plans."

Bill: It does. In terms of A.I., you've warned for a long time not to use it, but you said it's nuanced, too. What do you think is safe and not safe to use, at this point in time?

Gideon: "Coding is generally safe, that is why I approved HTML production of the YouTube shorts, they are harmless. The issue is the A.I. image and video generation, and the extensive use of chatbots, especially for personal matters. I have spoken on this previously and my position has not changed, avoid the A.I. visuals and using the chatbots for personal issues."

Bill: I'm seeing these Near-Death Experience YouTube channels using A.I. a lot, and they'll make these beautiful scenes of Heaven, but I hate looking at them. It feels off, it makes me feel ill.

Gideon: "I would entirely avoid viewing that sort of thing. These versions of Heaven may look appealing initially, but they are being sourced from dark realms. There is also a real 'false' Heaven in this astral area, it is an abomination and deception."

Bill: I'm adding that to my notes because I want to follow up on that later, it's one of the most incredible things we've discussed. The idea of a 'false' Heaven, I've never even seen it disclosed anywhere.

Gideon: "It would be one of the most suppressed topics known."

Bill: You've told me the next four years are really important. At no other time is the soul itself at more risk, are we as a species more at risk.

Gideon: "That is true. The next four years are the most important for human spirituality in all of history.

The New Agers talk about some kind of ascension, this transition to '5D', it is mostly utter nonsense, but some information I have come upon leads me to believe very big changes are coming for the 2030s. Something fundamental is coming."

Bill: Yet another topic I'm adding to my notes here. We had a joint encrypted chat session with your guide, it was incredible, we prayed and sought guidance from God. It meant a lot to me. I wanted to ask you what our supporters can do, if this is something you would recommend?

Gideon: "In terms of prayer sessions? I strongly suggest that, whether online or in person. The prayers and intention needs to be directed to our Creator, Elohim, Yahweh, Yeshua, Jesus Christ or simply God.

My guide says the cabal is not allowed to hijack our intention to reach our Creator. If we seek Him, He will hear us."

Bill: It was so encouraging, but not everyone is feeling that way. One of our supporters emailed me feeling frustrated, they feel like the cabal is winning. What do you say to people who feel like there's no way to stop this?

Gideon: "There is divine plan at play, but it relies on our free will. We have to make choices.

We, as a team, also have a plan and mission that is key to all of this. We are literally the only group with a plan to stop this. There are some other groups I know of, they serve different purposes, but they have no plan to stop Obsidian itself."

Bill: Let's get back to the data centers. What's some of the deeper intel you've obtained?

Gideon: "There are multiple agendas at play, certainly polluting local areas to install 15 minute cities is one of the more obvious ones, and then there is one that is a huge threat to Restricted and Quarantined classes.

That threat is the most concerning, and may have something to do with the intel about 2027 I have tried - and so far, failed - to communicate to you without it being interfered with and disrupted.

We will need to stop here, because I am going to engage in discussions only our team should see."

Bill: That's fine, let's transition the conversation here.
